DAILY GAZETTE.

The Japanese Embassy at Home.

[Correspondence of the New York Herald.] United States Steamed Niagara, Jedo, November 12, 1880.

I send, by the first opportunity, an announcement of the safe arrival of the Japanese embassy at this port, one hundred and thirty-three days from New York. The entire party have enjoyed the most perfect health, and have returned in a most present able condition. For almost the only time since their departure from our shores, whon they came in sight of Fusi-jammi, the Blessed Mountain," their countenance displayed something analogous to wonder and satisfaction; and, indeed, it was a joyous sight, even to the mariner, whose ties of kindred and affection were in other and distant lands.

The immense bay was studded with my-riads of sails, whose white canvass glittered in the sunbeams, and whose graceful forms skipped the waters as if instinct with life—modern marine architecture can boast no greater triumph than those beautiful boats. For miles under slow steam we pro ceeded up the bay, the shore developing new and picturesque scenes as we advanced, until suddenly we opened the immense and wonderful city, which he that has not seen has not seen a wonder at least equal to the renowned and fair city of Seville. chorage is seven miles distant from the shore very material objection either to safe or frequent visits, as the weather is very cold and the winds are very fresh.

On the 10th, the ambassadors and the whole septuagint—kamis, no kamis, cooks and porters—were landed in their own boats, the yards were manned; the howitzers were fired, the band playing in the best style of Here Bimbach, the leader, our own American air, "Home, Sweet Home," and thus ended the last act in this eventful drama.

In the evening many presents were sent aboard, consisting of cosa de comen y beber, among which predominated the favorite tip ple of the facetious and jovial Falstaff, and and here called sakee. Those who have visited the shore to day all agree in the vast-ness of the city, and describe it as built on lofty hills, ascended by many steps, and traversed by noble rivers, spanned by elegant bridges. The style of architecture is not imposing; the palatial residences are sur-rounded by high walls, enclosing vast areas of highly cultivated gardens fish ponds and ornamental trees. The residence of our able and excellent minister, Mr. Harris, is one of the ancient temples, which he has made quite comfortable by the addition of many American notions. For the officers of this a temple has been prepared. Horses, norimons and guides have also been placed at their disposal, and thus far there has been evinced a disposition to reciprocate the civilties extended to the Japanese ambassadors while on their visit to the United States. A Prussian fleet is now at anchor in the bay of Jeddo, having aboard a minister charged with the negotiation of a treaty of amity and commerce. Thus far but little progress has been made, the Japanese caring but little to extend the circle of their 1860 Popular Goods 1860 commercial acquaintances. It is presumed, however, that they will again become the victims of necessity.

The Niagara will remain here ten days.

THE FARMER AND HIS TOOLS .- " A carpenter is known by his chips" is an old and true saying, and equally as true is it that the farmer may be known by his tools. If we see a man who throws a spade here and. a shovel there, we immediately pronounce him to be a poor farmer-one who, when he wants to use a spade or hoe, cannot find it. It is here, it is there, and in short it is everywhere but in the right place; and after a long search which occupies more time than would have taken him to do the job intended, it is found just where he had left it, sticking along a fence row, or perhaps in one corner of the orchard, where he had been transplanting trees. This, besides denoting carelessness and a want of energy, with which a man must be endowed to make a good farmer, gives the appearance to a casual observer of the unkempt head of hair of a neglected urchin in a school-room—an entire mismanagement of the grounds, and the cattle roaming wheresoever they list over the whole pasture.

On the other hand, if we see a man who has a place for everything, and everything in its place, we are ready to speak a good word for him any day, and to lend him a helping hand in time of need. If we pay a visit to his tool-room, we find on one side a number of racks for spades, shovels, forks &c., while in one corner stands a chest which attracts our attention, and we essay to raise the lid, but, abl it is locked; no mischievous hands are allowed to enterthere; but our host, seeing our quandary, quickly comes to our assistance, and raising the lid remarks, "I have to keep it fast to shut out the boys." We gazed in astonishment and admiration at the piles of tools of all des-criptions; chisely, hammers, saws, and...in fact all that would be required to set up a small carpenter's shop, not thrown confused-ly together, but everything in its place. All around it extends a small strip of leather in which are placed all the smaller instruments, while in one corner is a rack sustaining some half dozen different sized bottom lie scattered a set of planes, saws, hatchets, and the like, that would make the eyes of a master carpenter sparkle with de-

How different indeed must be the feelings of the man as he views, with a master's eye, a complete stock of working imple-ments, from those of the man who, when he wants an auger to mend his wagon, must go to his neighbor to borrow one; or, perhaps, for the want of one, his wagon must go un repaired or be taken to a wheelwright's shop. And perhaps the while his hay or grain lies spoiling in the field for the want of proper attention, and all for the want of

I think a man with a goodly stock of common sense and sound judgment will not, when he views the matter in its true light, be without a chest of tools, when so much can be saved at so small expense. - Germantown Telegraph.

HARVESTING AT CHRISTMAS .- Within a few miles of Durham, England, harvest work was in full vigor during Christmas week. Within six or seven miles of Durham large quantities of corn are still out-standing in the fields, some of it even uncut. And on Friday and Saturday week any traveler might have witnessed the strange phenomenon of farmers getting in their harvest crops and leading home their corn from the fields, the snow at the time covering the ground to the depth of a foot or more. It is perhaps almost superfluous to add that the produce could be of little or no marketable value, and was merely carried out of the fields to be placed in the farm yard as food for the cattle. There are still seven hundred acres, both of wheat and oats, remaining outstanding in the fields in the above mentioned localities.

WHAT THEY'LL AGREE .- "I wish," said Senator Simmons in his speech in the United States Senate, "I could see a proposition that I could hear somebody who was disaffected say would satisfy him. I have not heard one of them say so. The Sena-tor from Texas said if we would do about forty things that he knew we would not do, he would then consider. That is the nearest approach to a settlement that I have heard. [Laughter.] If we would stop the pulpits, burn the school houses, suppress the news papers, imprison the abolitionists, and break up the government, everything that is here now, he would think about staying in."-Laughter.

As an internstly to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability, and hourable dealing, they have but face quals, and to superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortigages upon proporty in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below pair, and are very way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panie, as the experience of the past tenches, to become clauses, if not outrienly, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well-calculated to mislend by publishing partial and one-sided syntemous of their condition, and without a cash supplies on hand sufficient to refusure their outstanding risks, the above named companies atways have and keep over and above their capital twice the unnount, and in most instances four times, needed for the relianuance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policles issued without delay, and farms risks, for a series of years taken at lees rates than can be done by Munal Companies, and a cordiating jown instead of autocretating. All losses promptly adjusted and paid. CAPITAL AND SURILLUS,

New York Life Insurance Company, CASE CAPITAL OVER $1,900,000
all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vest sum pay a large proportion of their onnual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

Our practice of seventeen years standing differs from all others, founded on truth, no trifling, with human existence, sacrificing life by experiments. We are regular every few weeks in our risits, frank in our opinious, honest in our dealings, and moderate in our charges. We invite investigation, claim to know everything, or to cure overybody, but do claim to reason and common sense, and to cure soven out of ten pronounced incurable. Official Paper of the City. Compromises and their Effect.

Of what avail was all the labor of the republicans during the past presidential election in electing a president in favor of prohibiting slavery from all our territories, if lature that they are generally ignorant of we now compromise, and agree that only a the possible consequences of the passage part of the territories shall be free from of the bill. Below is an estimate of the

If republicans now concede the Crittenden amendments, why did not those republicans support Breckinridge, whose platform on examination of the estimate, that it is known citizens. was milk and water compared with those amendments? If they had done so, and elected him, there would now be no trouble. The south would have been satisfied.

If there are other republicans who are and elect him? The northern territories might, with some prospect of success against slavery, be left to vote it up or down, but not so with the southern territory. There slavery will go if not prohibited. It is there that the republican doctrine needs to be applied, if at all. Now, with what consistency can republicans who strenuously insisted upon prohibition, give it up in the territory south of 36° 30', as they will do if they adopt the border state compromise?

If we compromise at all, do we not acknowledge that we were insincere in the promulgation of our principles during the presidential campaign?

"But," says a compromiser, " I did not know there was to be a fuss about it, and a dissolution of the Union." Well, you soknowledge, then, that southern bluster frightens you. If you know, hereafter, that the south will not rebel, you will vote for your principles; but if you think it will not be agreeable to them, you will vote as they tell you. That is what a compromise means drilled in bodies of proper size to be renat this time. That is what is understood to be doughfaceīsm.

If the south had not known by former experience that they could scare the north men better than those men know themselves. They play the game well, and the secessionists, and their allies in the north, and in the border slave states, must chuckle over the success of their scheme. We believe, to-day, that secession is a sham, and just as fully believe that there would have been no secession at all, if the north had always stood firm, showing to them that secession would avail nothing.

When the farce is ended, and the republicans have bartered away the only principle which makes them a party, what will be the result? The republican party will be dead, and the leaders who shall betray it, will be deader than Daniel Webster, was after his 7th of March speech. The democratic party will then come into power, and the south will rule the country, as they did after the upon slavery, than they have ever done before.

We write the above indulging in a fear, which is common to republicans just now, that they are to be sold out. The indicathe President elect.

Placing the State on a "War Footing. Madison, Wis., Jan. 31.

To the Editors of the Gazette:-As there seems to be some prospect that the bill now before the senate for the uniforming, arming, equipping and disciplining 6000 infantry troops and two batteries of field artillery, may find sufficient favor with the present legislature to become a law and as the passage of the bill may involve the state in very heavy expenses, it is necessary that we know what we are doing. I find on conversation with members of the legisexpense of uniforming, arming and main. taining the force proposed to be raised, for six months. It will at once strike any one

.$1,035,660 The above estimate gives a total of over one million of dollars; the estimate for the 6 infantry regiments amounts alone to within a few thousand dollars of a million. No account is made in the estimate for ammunition, bedding, tents or other housing, medical staff, transportation of men and material, and many other necessary and incidental expenses which would become necessary, if the troops were called out and dered efficient. In the event of the troops being called out to be "drilled and disciplined," as the bill provides, one quarter of a million of dollars is a fair estimate of the into concession, this rebellion would never expense additional to the above estimate. have been attempted. But they know their It costs the general government in time of peace something like $1000 a year for each man in the service. The state could not expect to maintain troops for much less than half that sum per man.

But if the necessity of "something being done" is admitted, it is important to enthat the moment the north is fully on its quire where the money is coming from, if knees and repentant, the seceding states the troops are to be called out before the will all come back, and graciously take the 4th of March. The constitution limits the government into their own hands. And we public bonded debt at $100,000, so that if we are to put out additional bonds, the necessary amendment to the constitution would have to be first submitted to the people. If the money is to be raised by a tax, it is well for us to consider whether it is necessary to increase the tax from about $150, 000 to something like a million and a half, or even more, depending on the will and pleasure of the governor.

Independent of the financial difficulties of the question there is one of perhaps equal importance, where is the constitutional authority to be found for the state to compromises of 1832 and 1850. If this call out, drill and maintain a volunteer arshould take place, will there be no anti- my, and that in time of peace. The govslavery party? We say yes. The document assumes the complete iude pendence of South Carolina, and this assumption carries with it the first proposition under thesecond head. He argues that the position of the administration is absurd, if the Fort be regarded as public property only, and the purpose be to protect it. He considers the various ways of protecting property, and shows that a collision will not afford protection. Whether the Fort be taken or not, the property will be injured.

This injury, he says, can be avoided, as South Carolina pledges herself to pay its fall value. As such it could easily be arranged. He says further that he is instructed to assure the president that any attempt to reinforce will be considered a declaration of war. The cabinet was in session to-day.

A Letter from the Pike's Penk Gold Mines.

We are permitted to copy the following letter addressed to E. G. Harlow, Esq., of Work and our Facilities for Executing 1t, this city:

DENNER CITY, Jan. 12, 1860. DEAR SIR :-- You will see by this that I am now residing in Denver. I arrived here from Chicago in June last. At that time I made but a short stay here, barely long enough to make the needful preparations for a trip in the mountains, which led me through all the principal mines then discovered, crossing the "South Park" and snowy ranges west, to the stream running into the Gulf of California. I traveled some 800 miles over mountain ranges, and judging from what I have seen, I am of opinion that the mineral wealth of the country has not been over estimated, and that practical miners will be abundantly rewarded for their labors. Silver ore (said to be plenty), iron ore, copper, lead, and extensive fields of coal are found near this city. Those who have been engaged in farming the past season are satisfied beyond a doubt that they can raise all the grains that are produced in Illinois or Wisconsin. Good crops of corn, wheat, oats, barley and all kinds of garden vegetables yielded well

last season, and I believe this country will prove to be much ahead of Illinois or Wisconsin in time. As a proof of the wildness of the climate. I will state that cattle used to drawing lumber 20 or 30 miles, keep in good order the entire winter on grass alone, without hay or grain. Our markets are supplied with beef fattened on grass, and I assure it is as good as I have ever seen else-

On my arrival in this city, in June last, it had a population of about 2,000 persons, living in about six hundred houses, most of which were shanties, and four brick tenements; the latter had no pretensions to architectural effect. At the present time there are many brick stores and store-houses that would be an ornament to any city. Denver, in my opinion, will be the commercial center of this country.

The above is not written for the purpose of influencing you to come here, as I suppose you have a good home and paying basiness, therefore you will not come; but you may have friends coming here-if so, and they want any information about men and things here, by writing to me, you or they can get any information asked for. Truly yours,

D. H. SOGGS.

SELECT SCHOOL .- Rev. H. W. Spalding, rector of Christ church, of this city, will commence a select school in Pease's block, on the 11th inst. Mr. S. was formerly a teacher in the Milwaukee public schools, where he obtained a high reputation in that profession. We have not the slightest doubt that the proposed school will be such a one as is needed at this time, and we hope our citizens generally, who desire a first class select school, will promptly come forward and aid Mr. S. in his enterprise. For terms see advertisement in another column.

The Chicago and Northwestern railway company intend, in the spring to build a bridge across the Fox River at Oshkosh which will cost $100,000.

The Chicago Journal pronounces the French puzzle which has been so generally published a "sell." It gives the following directions for "wiping out" the lines: "draw the lines upon a slate, wet your forefinger and press it three times horizontally across the diagram. If the lines are not then effectually eraced, we are greatly mistaken,"

'ardly Realized.

Hi 'ea' 'o 'orrible 'eachche this afternoon, hand I stepped lato the hapothesaries hand says hi to the man, "Csn' you hease me of an 'eachche?" "Does it hache 'ard," says 'e, "Hoxeedingly," says hi, hand upon that 'e gave me a Cephalic Pill, hand 'pon me 'onor it cured me so quick that I 'ardly realized I 'ad 'ad an 'eachche.

Hardache is the favorite sign by which nature makes known any deviation whatever from the natural state of the brain, and viewed in this light it may be looked on as a safeguard intended to give notice of disease which might otherwise escape attention, till too late to be remedied; and its indications should never be neglected. Headsches may be classified under two names, viz: Symptomatic and Idiopathic. Symptomatic headsche is exceedingly common and is the precursor of a great variety of diseases, among which are Apoplexy, tiout, Rheumatism and all febrile diseases. It its nervous form it is sympathelic of disease of the storach great variety of diseases, among which are Apoplexy, front, Rheumatism and all febrile diseases. In its nervous form it is sympathelic of disease of the stomach constituting tick headache, of hepatic alsease constituting bittous headache, of worms, constipation and other disorders of the bowels, as well as renal and uterine affections. Diseases on the heart are very frequently attended with headaches; Ausemia and plethors are also affections which frequently occasion headache. Idiopathic headache is also very common, being usually distinguished by the name of nervous headache, sometimes coming on suddenly in a state of apparently sound health and prostrating at once the neutral and physical enegies, and in other instances it comes on slowly, heralded by depression of spirits or accribity of temper.—In most instances the pain is in the front of the head, over one or both eyes, and sometimes provoking vomiting; under this class may also be named Naturalgia.

For the treatment of either class of headache the Caphalic Pills have been found a sure and safe reraedy, relieving the most acute palus in a few minutes, and by its subtle power eradicating the diseases of which headache is the unerring index.

BRIDGET.—Missus wants you to send hor a box of Cephalic Gine, no, a bottle of prepared Pills.—but I'm thinking that's not just it neither; but perhaps ye'll be afther knowing what is is. Ye see she's nigh dead and gone with the sick headache, and wants some more of that same as relaived her before.

Druggist.—You must mean Spalding's Cephalic Pills.

Bridges.—Only he ups now and two its seek it, here's the Bridge:—Och! sure now and you've sed it, here's the quarter and give me the pills and dont be all day about it after.

Constipution or Costiveness.

No one of the "many ille flesh is heir to" is so prevalent, so little understood, and so much neglected as costiveness. Often originating in carelessness, or sedentry habits; it is regarded as a slight disorder of too little consequence to excite unxiety, while in reality it is the precursor and companion of many of the most fatal and dangerous diseases, and unless carly cradicated it will bring the sufferer to an untimely grave. Among the lighter evils of which costiveness is the usual attendant are Headache, Colic, Rheumatism, Foul Breath, Piles and others of like nature, while a long train of frightful diseases such as Malignant Fevers, Aboesses, Dysentary, Diarrhoes, Dyspepsia, Apoplexy, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Hysterie, Hypochondrissis, Melancholy and Insanity, first indicate their presence in the system by this alarating symptom. Not unfrequently the diseases named originate in Constipation, but take on an independent existence unless the cause is cradicated in an early stage. From all these considerations it follows that the disorder should receive immediate attention whenever it occurs, and no person should neglect to get a box of Cephalic Pills on the first appearance of the complaint, as their timely use will expel the Insiduous approaches of disease and destroy this dangerous foe to human life.

A Real Blessing.

Physician.—Well, Mrs. Jones, how is your headache? Mrs. Jones.—Gonel Doctor, all gonel the pill you sent cured me in just twenty minutes, and I wish you would send more so that I can have them handy.

Physician.—You can get them at any Druggists.—Call for Cephalle Pills, I find they never fail, and I recommend them in all cases of headache.

Mrs. Jones.—I shall send for a box directly, and shall tell all my suffering friends, for they are a real blessing.

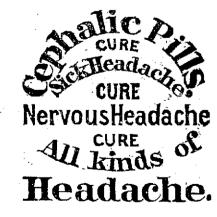

TWENTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS SAVED.—Mr. Spaiding has sold two millions of bottles of his celebrated Prepared Giue, and it is estimated that each bottle saves at least ten dollars worth of broken furniture, thus making an aggregate of twenty millions of dollars reclaimed from total loss by this valuable invention. Having made his glue a bousehold word, he now proposes to do the world still greater service by curing all the aching heads with his Caphalic Fills, and if they are as geed as his glue, headache will soon vanish away like snow in July.

The Over Excitement, and the mental care and anxiety incident to close attention to business or study, are among the numerous causes of nervous headache. The also dreed state of nind and body incident to this distressing complaint is a fatal blow to all energy and amittion. Sufferers by this disorder can always obtain speedy relief from these distressing attacks, by using one of the Cephalic Fills whenever the symptoms appear. It quiets the overtasked brain, and southes the strained and jarring nerves, and releases the tension of the stomach which always accompanies and aggravates the disordered condition of the brain.

GREAT DISCOVERY.—Among the most important of all the great medical discoveries of this age may be considered the system of vaccination for protection from Small Pox, the Cephalic Fill for relief of headache, and the use of Quinine for the prevention of headache, and the use of Quinine for the prevention of which is a sure specific, whose benefits will be experienced by suffering humanity long after their discoverers are forgotten.

Ear Did you ever have the sick headache? Do you remember the throbbing temples, the fevered brow, the loathing and discust at the sight of food. How totally unfit you were for pleasure, conversation or study.—One of the Cephalic Pills would have relieved you from all the suffering which you then experienced. For this and other purposes you should always have a box of them on hand to use as occasion requires.

By the use of these pills the periodic attacks of Nerrous or Sick Headache may be prevented; and if taken at the commencement of an attack immediate relief from pain and sickness will be obtained.

They seldom fail in removing Numsea and Headache to which females are so subject. They act gently upon the bowels,-removing Costic

For Literary Men, Students, delicate females, and all persons of sedentary habits, they are valuable as a Laxattre, improving the appetite, giving tone and vigor to the digestive organs, and restoring the natural elasticity and strength of the whole system.

The CEPHALIC PILLS are the result of long invest

They are entirely vegetable in their composition, and
